

Marking criteria – EXTENDED RESPONSE	Marks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Writes a sustained and comprehensive extended response The response is sequenced in a logical order Appropriate resources are used extensively throughout the response (including statistics, graphs and articles) Each of the main areas (employment levels, labour market trends and WorkChoices legislation) are comprehensively outlined The viewpoints of several different groups are included and contrasted Defines and extensively applies appropriate Economics terminology and concepts throughout the response The stimulus material is discussed Appropriate referencing is used A comprehensive bibliography is included The task is within the word range 	A 17-20
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Writes a structured extended response The response is clearly ordered Appropriate resources are used throughout the response (including statistics, graphs and/or articles) Each of the main areas (employment levels, labour market trends and WorkChoices legislation) are outlined, perhaps with one section weaker than the others The viewpoints of some different groups are included and contrasted Defines and applies appropriate Economics terminology and concepts throughout the response The stimulus material is mentioned Appropriate referencing is used A comprehensive bibliography is included The task is within the word range 	B 13-16
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There is some structure to the extended response Resources are used throughout the response, though there may not be enough (or of sufficient quality and/or relevance) Most of the main areas (employment levels, labour market trends and WorkChoices legislation) are briefly outlined The viewpoints of at least two different groups are included and compared Uses appropriate Economics terminology and concepts throughout the response The stimulus material is mentioned Appropriate referencing is used A comprehensive bibliography is included The task is within the word range 	C 9-12
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There is a weak structure to the extended response Some resources are used throughout the response, mainly what has been given in class instead of found through research Some of the main areas (employment levels, labour market trends and WorkChoices legislation) are briefly outlined The viewpoints of at least two different groups are included Uses some appropriate Economics terminology and/or concepts throughout the response Appropriate referencing is used A comprehensive bibliography is included The task is within the word range 	D 5-8
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Writes a limited response Only class resources used Some general comments about labour markets may be made Some or no referencing is used A bibliography may not be included 	E 1-4